“Keep your eyes on the stars, and your feet on the ground.“ - Theodore Roosevelt

“I think we are not conscious of the degree to which our society has moved us to see people as “others” ... It goes back to an...epistemology of compassion that recognizes how we belong to each other, that recognizes we are each other’s harvest, we are each other’s business. To be at that time on the clock of the universe when we can make that huge change from “othering” other people to feeling they are part of us and we are part of them—that’s a wonderful opportunity. It’s a wonderful time to be alive.” - Grace Lee Boggs

Graham Burton

Toronto native Graham Burton was a kind, gifted, and tremendously creative member of our class. Friends remember Graham as a passionate and quick-witted individual, a multitalented artist and adventurer who enjoyed spending time outdoors – no matter the season. He was known for having a wonderful sense of humor and a gift for writing. Graham had a great love for the arts, and expressed this at Hamilton through his involvement in student theatre, writing, music, and storytelling. Peers remember his performance in the Director's Showcase and his rendition of Neutral Milk Hotel's In the Aeroplane Over the Sea at the SPAC Coffeehouse. He also enjoyed being a part of Vibes, Written and Spoken and the Novelist's Support Group.

Graham is fondly remembered by his family, Delta Kappa Epsilon fraternity brothers, friends, and the Hamilton community.

but for now we are young let us lay in the sun and count every beautiful thing we can see

Neutral Milk Hotel - In the Aeroplane Over the Sea

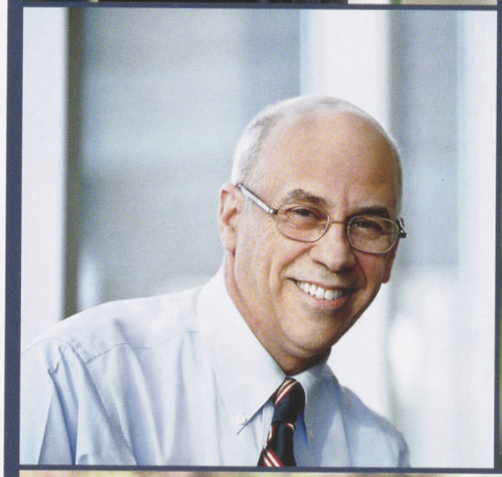
Isaiah Carpenter-Winch

Isaiah Carpenter-Winch was a friendly, generous person with a brilliant mind. He came to Hamilton to pursue his interests in computer science and digital arts. On campus, he was well-regarded by classmates and faculty alike. He is remembered by many as a skilled athlete and a curious, accomplished student. Professors noted how respectful he was of the people around him, and remarked on his love for learning and sharing. He was close with people inside and outside of the Computer Science Department, and was known to be as committed as he was caring. Peers remember him as a passionate, loyal friend, always positive and upbeat.

Anyone who knew Isaiah will mention his shorts. The Cambridge, Massachusetts native always seemed to wear them, no matter the weather – something his friends warmly remember joking with him about in the dorms.

Isaiah is missed by his family, Delta Phi fraternity brothers, friends, and the Hamilton community.

Faculty



Hamilton's faculty is made up of talented, active scholars and dedicated educators who dedicate their time in service of us - the students reading this book. They guide us as we move through our Hamilton careers, helping us when we stumble, and help us find out who we want to be during a difficult period in our lives. They actively engage in meaningful and exciting research, and work closely with students to inspire them to pursue their dreams both inside and outside of class.

We've all had good and bad classes. We've had professors we enjoyed, and maybe also professors we'd rather not take another class with. No matter what, it's very likely that at least one of the people in the following pages has changed your life in a significant way. They are educators, advisors, coaches, and helping hands, and each and every faculty member we interacted with helped bring us to where we are today.

PRESIDENT WIPPMAN

Hamilton's 20th president joined the faculty and began his tenure as president in July 2016. He is a recognized authority in international law, holding degrees from Princeton and Yale. He has a decorated career in law, education, and administration, and has represented nations such as the Republic of the Philippines and the Republic of Nicaragua. Many have praised his powerful leadership and legal expertise – future classes will see what his presidency brings to Hamilton.

DOC WOODS

The iconic Leonard C. Ferguson Professor of Music has written over 700 compositions in styles including choral, orchestral, chamber, jazz combo, and big-band. His pieces have been performed by numerous ensembles, and he's received awards and grants for performance, education, composition, scholarship and leadership. Even if you haven't taken courses with him, you might have been stopped on campus and told one of his classic jokes or puns -- he's got a lot of them.

MOH THE BEARDED DRAGON

Hamilton's cutest resident is a little hard to find. Moh, named for the Mohs Scale of Hardness, is a bearded dragon that lives in the Geoscience Department. Her favorite foods are bananas, apples, and broccoli, and she loves drinking water out of a tiny mug. Professor Dave Bailey takes care of the lizard with the help of students who bring her fruits and veggies as treats. She's watched years of courses in Bailey's classroom, and probably knows more about geology at this point than she lets on.

THE HAMILTON ANALYTICAL LAB

The Science Center holds many labs, but one of the most fascinating is the X-Ray Fluorescence Laboratory. Professors Bailey and Goodale of the Geoscience and Archaeology Departments oversee the lab, which is run by XRF technicians Richard Conrey and Laureen Wagoner with the help of a few student assistants. Hamilton is one of a handful of schools that offers such a lab for faculty and student use. Additionally, the XRF Lab analyzes samples from outside sources such as the US Geological Survey.

ANDREA TOWNSEND, BIRDMASTER

Assistant Professor of Biology Andrea Townsend works very closely with one of Hamilton's most iconic inhabitants - the crows. Along with the students of her Townsend Lab, she researches urbanization, disease, and behavioral ecology with these intelligent animals. She even hand-raised four crows – Po, Sunny, Asher, and Pippin – in Hamilton's new aviary. Each of the birds has a distinct personality that it carried into adulthood, and they have even started trying to imitate human speech.

BARB TEWKSBURY

The Upson Chair of Public Discourse and Professor of Geosciences has been at Hamilton for over 40 years, during which she has led and participated in ongoing research projects in locations such as Iceland and Egypt. She has been teaching structural geology to NASA astronauts for the past decade, and has recieved numerous NSF grants for her research. Besides her geological work, she's quite well known in the kiltmaking community - she even wrote and illustrated The Art of Kiltmaking.

ECO-EDUCATORS - THE ES DEPARTMENT

With the world facing its current climate crisis, the Department of Environmental Studies is a crucial part of the College. You may expect the department to be strictly scientific, but Assistant Professor Aaron Strong and Lecturer Jason Townsend are joined by faculty from the Government, Africana Studies, Literature, Biology, Philosophy, Geoscience, and Anthropology departments. This grants students a variety of skills and perspectives and prepares them to make a difference.

PRISON EDUCATION AND OUTREACH

Courtney Gibbons, Katheryn Doran, and Doran Larson are all involved in America's prisons. Gibbons participates in the Mohawk Consortium College-in-Prison program, which offers opportunities for in-prison college education. Doran directs the Hamilton Oneida Prison Education faculty group, members of which volunteer to educate local inmates. Larson founded the American Prison Writing Archive, a collection of non-fiction writing by incarcerated Americans about their experience.

Arts & Entertainment

For a small school, Hamilton has a thriving arts scene. We really put the arts in "it's a small liberal arts school in Upstate New York. Near Utica. It's in the middle of nowhere. We've got about 1800 students? Yeah, ha, it's really small. Hm? I'm double majoring in Literature and Government whic- Oh, the job market is just fine, thanks for asking."

A huge amount of students are involved with the arts in some way, whether it be music, painting, theatre, dance, writing, or any of the other creative outlets available to us. Beyond this, we have some pretty neat people come to campus, from huge musical acts at C&C to visiting artists at the Wellin. In this section, check out some highlights of Hamilton's arts & entertainment over the past four years.

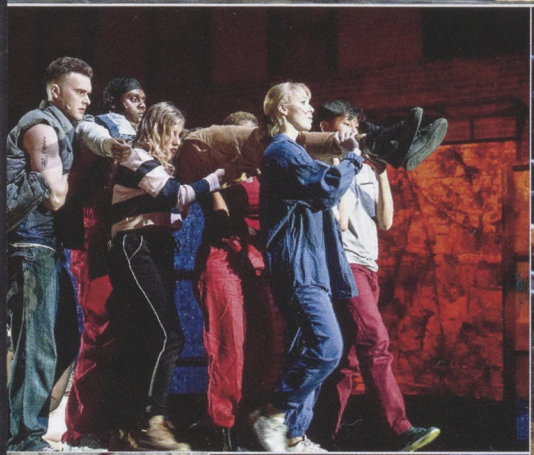
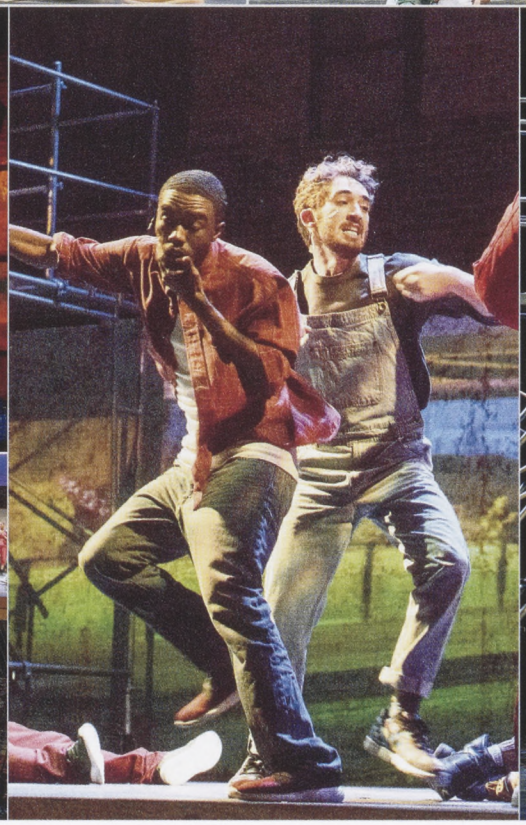
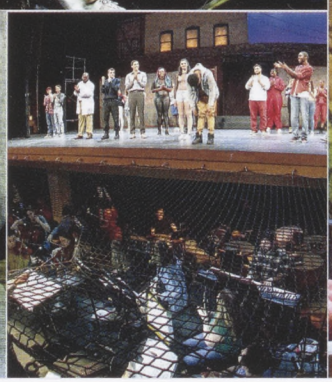
KING STAG

"Five years ago, an astronomer came to visit here, a magician who could command white magic, black magic, red, green, and I believe, even blue magic. His name was Durandarte, and I was his loyal servant."

The Theatre Department's Fall Mainstage Production was Carlo Gozzi's 18th century commedia dell'arte classic - a tale of romance, transformation, and deception set in the imaginary land of Serendippo. King Stag featured a cast of 21 students, including Emily Aviles as King Deramo, Jake Bolster as Clarice, Noelani Stevenson as Tartaglia, Lily Delle-Levine as Leandro, Robbie Lane as Angela, Taylor Wallace as Brighella, Jack Clark as Smeraldina, and Jojo Reinhart-Jones as Truffaldino. The show utilized bunraku-style puppetry operated by a masterful team of student puppeteers and world-class live musical accompaniment by Austin Ford '19. The show featured a complicated set of flying walls, stairs, and scenery that transformed the theatre into Deramo's Palace and the Forest of Roncislappe.







WEST SIDE STORY

The Theatre Department's Spring Mainstage Production was the classic American musical West Side Story. The show featured a cast of 28 students, including Nina Merz as Maria, Christopher Victor as Tony, Ndanu Mutisya as Anita, Kenny Letts as Riff, Gus Gonzalez as Bernardo, Adrian Summers as Chino, and Will Benthem de Grave as Action. They were joined by Ben Leit '22, Mitchell Greene '22, Sarah Gyurina '22, Lizzy Ely '21, Ally Millar '22, David Tener '21, Teddy Sullivan '19, Jay Menner '22, Zeke Coleman '22, Rachel Lee '22, Jack Clark'21, Will Kaback'20, Ricardo Millien '19, Lupita Cabanillas '21, Danielle Hirsch '21, Sharon Hammer '20, Addie Amadeck '22, Grace Woolson '21, Carina Krusell '22, and Man Nguyen '22. The show was accompanied by the Hamilton College Orchestra, directed by Professor Heather Buchman.

TWELFTH NIGHT

In August of 2018, Bare Naked Theatre presented Shakespeare's Twelfth Night in the KTSA Amphitheatre. The show featured a cast of 14 Hamilton students, including (in order of appearance): Austin Ford as Duke Orsino, Danielle Hirsch as Curio, Lily Delle-Levine as Valentine, Laura Boyman as Viola, Taylor Wallace as Sea Captain/Priest, Maggie Luddy as Sir Toby Belch, Jack Martin as Sir Andrew Aguecheek, Hannah McLean as Maria, Emily Aviles as Feste, Bella Nichol as Olivia, Andy Letai as Malvolio, Noelani Stevenson as Sebastian, Jojo Rinehart-Jones as Antonio, and Ali Zildjian as Fabian. The show was entirely produced, edited, and directed by students Andy Letai '19 and Noelani Stevenson '19, who also starred in the show. Reviews of the hilarious student performance were stellar.

DANCE

My dance studies helped me to become more well-rounded. It opened my mind to a whole new aspect of dance. I really took a deeper look at all the people behind the scenes from the lighting designer to the artistic director. It helped me to think outside the box and explore my opportunities in this industry.

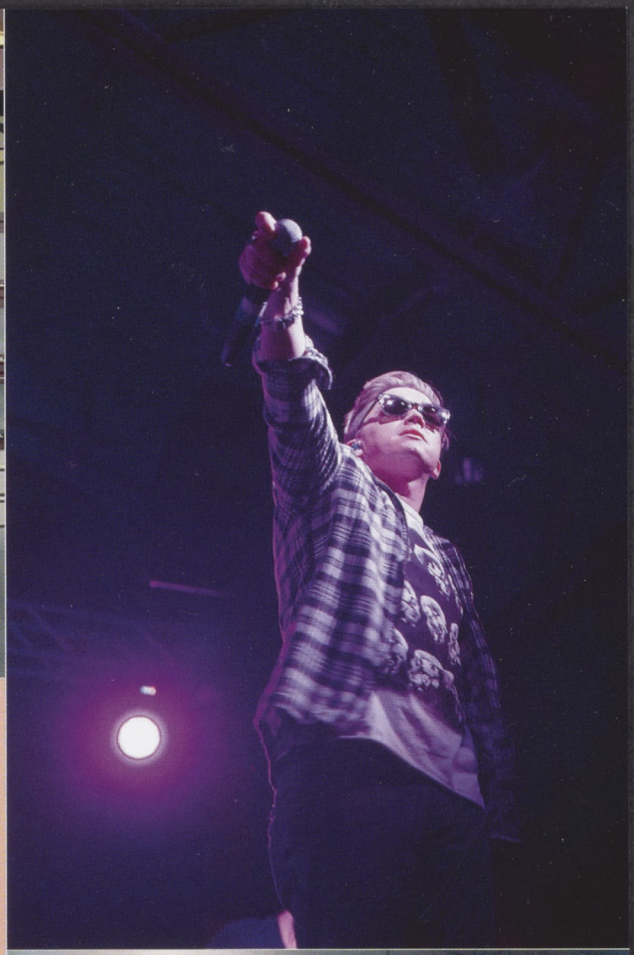
CLASS & CHARTER CONCERT

Hamilton's biggest yearly event is, without a doubt, the Class & Charter Day Concert. People look forward to the day all year, and when it finally comes, we celebrate the end of the school year right. Everyone at Hamilton knows how C&C goes. Students go to classes, drink plenty of water, and study for their final exams all day, stopping only to go to the concert in the afternoon before another nighttime study session. Some students start studying as early as sunrise! It's a true testament to the academic spirit of Hamilton. The show brings huge musical artists like Galantis, Charli XCX, Timeflies, Rozes, Luke Christopher, Moxie Raia, and more. The event is organized by a student & faculty committee including representatives from the Student Activities Office, CAB, WHCL, and Social Traditions - big props from the editor to our very own Josh Rothstein, who did an incredible amount of work as committee chair to make these concerts happen during our time at Hamilton.



CONCERTS & SHOWS

From Jessie McCartney to CEO of Goldman Sachs DJ D-Sol, Hamilton has a host of interesting performers brought to campus by student organizations such as CAB and WHCL. These range from niche indie artists to big name comedians, and draw big crowds of Hamilton students eager to take a break from all their work.

STUDENT MUSIC

Hamilton's musicians have plenty of opportunities to participate in high-class ensembles during their time on campus. Supported by the music department's talented musical faculty like Heather Buchman, Doc Woods, Danan Tsan, and G. Roberts Kolb, they put on shows for the Hamilton community and the people of Clinton. The Hamilton College Orchestra, Choir, and Jazz Ensemble are some of the largest, with smaller chamber ensembles offering opportunities for more specific musical interests. 2017 saw the start of one of the most stylish of groups, the Hamilton College Percussion Ensemble, which played classic songs in addition to original pieces by Lucas Mangold '20.

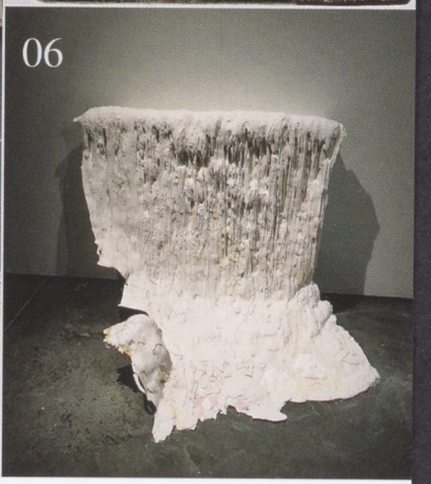
STUDENT PERFORMANCE

Hamilton's performers don't just play in ensembles. Student bands are a beloved part of campus culture, with well-known groups like Yonic Youth, Stink-182, Uptown Booty, and Juice. Poets, singers, rappers, and more can show off their skills at student concerts, SPAC Coffeehouses, and more. The last four years have brought one of the most successful of these events to Hamilton - The Funktion. And who could forget the thriving a cappella scene, with classic groups like Special K and the Buffers? They have regular concerts, but you never know when you're going to take a wrong turn in the KJ tunnels and stumble across a flock of them rehearsing. Rumor has it that roving troupes of these singing fiends sometimes ambush unwary students in their rooms, on Martin's Way, or even in class, forcefully serenading them with funky music. Some say they work for hire, like musical hitmen.



ARTISTIC TALENTS

Hamilton is home to an Art Department, of course, but many at Hamilton turn to art as an outlet for expression or an engaging hobby - whatever their major. The campus is constantly decorated with student sculptures, paintings, and photographs that put Hamilton's creativity on display for all to see. From beautiful oil paintings to surreal rock climbing sculptures, there's a little bit of everything to be found here.

Student Life

Hamilton is a community, of course, but the sheer amount going on at this tiny school is often unbelievable. The campus hosts a rapidly growing list of clubs that seem to cover every aspect of life – and more – on top of musical groups, volunteer opportunities, employment, and beyond. You could say that there's something for everyone. And if you can't find what you're looking for, well... it's easy to get it started.

The following pages are not a comprehensive list of Hamilton's student activities. To fully capture life at Hamilton, we would need an entire second yearbook. Instead, enjoy a selection of some of our school's unique student-led organizations, with a few highlights for your reading pleasure.

SOCIETY OF PHYSICS STUDENTS

"ONE GIANT LEAP FOR HAMKIND"

On November 4th, 2018, the Hamilton College chapter of the Society of Physics Students (SPS), an organization of the American Institute of Physics, launched a high-altitude balloon into space, achieving an altitude of 85,000 feet. In 1854, Hamilton College opened the Litchfield Observatory, which was at the time, the second largest observatory in United States. Astronomy and Physics have been at the core of the College for nearly 200 years as one of the oldest departments, yet never before had Hamilton been able to successfully execute a space launch. SPS's 2018 launch was covered by many local news networks and served as an opportunity to educate the community on the value of science and engineering as well as the accessibility of space. SPS is working to further push the boundaries with future launches that will go higher, photograph more exciting images from space, and collect useful scientific data about the Earth's climate.

VIBES

Vibes is a performance-based artist's collaborative made up mostly of writers. While most pieces by Vibes members are either rap, conventional or spoken word poetry they are open to absolutely anyone who wants to come and hone their skill. The organization holds a number of small poetry readings and performances a year but their biggest events are the annual Vibes Night, and the more music based event The Funktion, which they host every semester with the help of a few other organizations.

BEEKEEPING CLUB

The beekeeping club keeps bees nearby in Clinton. Their goal is to teach and maintain the art of beekeeping.

FILM CLUB

The film club is open to the Hamilton community and has weekly film screenings. They are interested in fostering a more artistic engagement on campus and would like to include student film productions, weekly publications and various discussion forums in future plans.

RED CROSS CLUB

The Red Cross Club hosts blood drives on campus and organizes several fundraisers to support local veterans, the most recent being a clothing/food drive for veterans in the area and our Vaccinate-A-Village Fundraiser, which raises money for measles and rubella vaccinations for individuals in over 80 countries. They also partnered with the Eastern New York Red Cross Chapter to install fire alarms in homes in the Utica area.

SMASH CLUB

Each week, students gather to play Super Smash Bros., primarily Melee and Ultimate. The space is shared between competitive players and casual attendees, with a mixture of regulars and varied newcomers.

CLUB ENTO

They don't just eat bugs - Club Ento strives to increase entomophagy awareness on the Hamilton College campus, promoting environmental ethics and attempting to reduce the amount of overall greenhouse gas emissions. Furthermore, Club Ento strives to introduce novel culinary options for the campus community.

FRENCH CLUB

The French Club promotes appreciation of French and francophone cultures at Hamilton College, and offer a forum for the exploration of francophone cuisines, films, music, and contemporary issues.

ISA

ISA promotes cross-cultural conversations, improves diversity awareness on campus, and helps international students become an active part of the Hamilton community through planned events in the semester. They also focus on building an international alumni network for post-Hamilton help.

ON THE MOVE

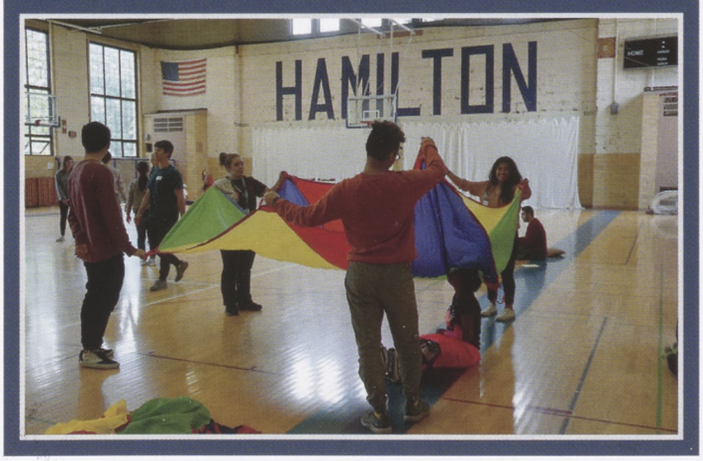
On The Move aims to build and maintain a strong relationship between Hamilton college and the refugee community in Utica.

HAAND

HAAND (Hamilton Autism Advocates for NeuroDiversity) promotes awareness of and support for individuals with ASD (Autism Spectrum Disorder). They partner with the Kelberman Center and run two main programs called Clubhouse and Teen Night with student volunteers. These programs give individuals with ASD many opportunities for social skill building and allow volunteers to learn how to interact with people with ASD.

GLI HAMILTONIANI

Gli Hamiltoniani is a Hamilton College student organization whose purpose is to promote and embrace the many facets of Italian culture and heritage. The club's goal is to enhance students' understanding of the Italian Culture through various events like Italian Movie Nights, the Italian Table, and Radio Prosciutto. The club also hosts trips to the Syracuse Opera, where students have had their first taste of Italian opera.



MODEL UN

Model UN pomotes awareness and understanding of international relations and the work of the United Nations, while helping students with public speaking and writing skills.

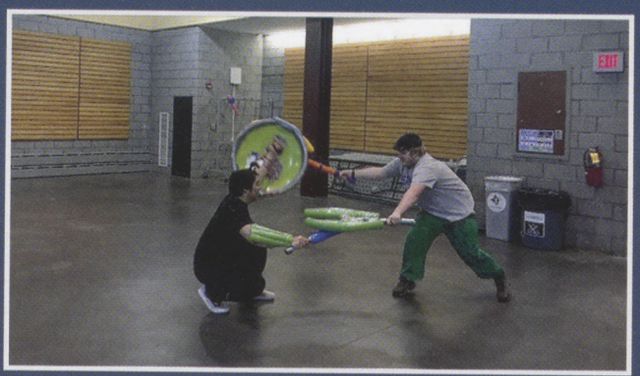
ORNITHOLOGICAL SOCIETY

The HOS pledges to offer Hamilton students the opportunity to bird-watch with other students. HOS exists to enable students to observe, analyze, and discuss the bird population.

BLSU

The Black and Latinx Student Union is a cultural organization on campus that seeks to empower its members within the Hamilton College Community based on the pillars of: academics, cultural awareness, diversity, community engagement, coalition building, and social justice. In the spirit of unity, they as an organization also seek to engage the Hamilton College Community with opportunities and experiences of ethnic diversity.

BOFFER / LARP



Boffer/LARP club is for people who enjoy friendly competition to hold mock battles with foam equipment on a weekly basis.

RUNNING CLUB

Running Club meets for runs 3 times per week, and run one local 5k, 10k, or half marathon road race during the semester. Several runners often participate in external marathons or races.

THE SHENENDOAH-KIRKLAND INITIATIVE

The Shenandoah-Kirkland Initiative seeks to inform students and faculty about the history behind Hamilton's founding and the importance of the Oneida Indian Nation and the Haudenosaunee tribes. They plan activities and institutional change and aim to rebuild the relationship between the college and the tribes by carrying out projects that express gratitude for the Nations' contribution to our community, and to spread awareness around campus. The Initiative was founded in 2016 by Christina Florakis '19 and Lily Pieper '18, after Florakis learned the story of the school's founding from Kandice Watson, the Director of Education & Cultural Outreach for the Oneida Nation. The Shenendoah-Kirkland Initiative is still relatively young, but they hope to expand their reach and further strengthen their ties to the Oneida Nation, as well as further helping Oneidas with additional services.

The group has hosted dinners, gone to several Oneida social dances, taught Hamilton students about Native American history, invited Oneida Nation leaders and language specialists to campus, and much more. The hopeful future success of this group will mean a growing relationship between the Hamilton College community and the nearby Oneida Nation – which, despite being only around 20 minutes from campus, many students have not visited or are perhaps not even aware of.

CAMPUS ACTIVITIES BOARD

The Hamilton College Campus Activities Board (CAB) is a student-run organization dedicated to bringing quality programming, including concerts, comedians, movies, and other special events to the Hill. Their executive and general boards work hard to organize some of the campus' biggest and most popular events.

Vegan club's goal is to make vegan food more accessible to students on campus, while raising awareness about the ethical and environmental principles behind veganism.

TROPICAL SOL

Tropical Sol is a Latin dance performance group; their goal is to contribute to the overall diversity of the campus through cultural music and dance. The organization promotes cultural diversity of race, gender, religion, and political differences. Respect of this kind encourages open inquiry, mutual understanding and promotes diversity.

HAMILTON GEOLOGICAL SOCIETY

Founded in 2019 by Austin Ford '19, The Hamilton Geological Society provides a resource for any and all Hamilton College students with an interest in the geosciences, coordinates department-wide activities and encourage student involvement in the geosciences outside of class time, and unites the Department of Geosciences faculty and students, supporting the existing friendly environment and network of support within the major.

THE STUDENT ACTIVITIES OFFICE

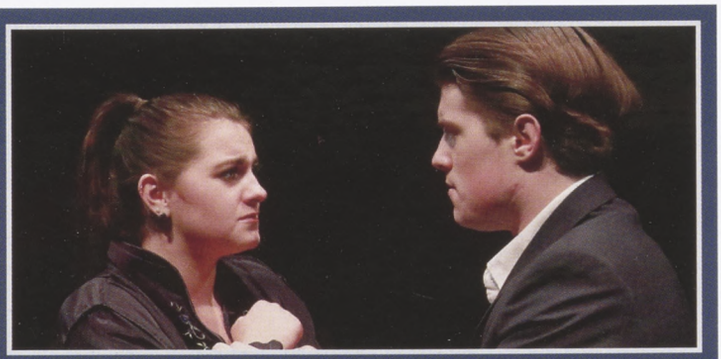
Noelle Niznik
Director of Student Activities

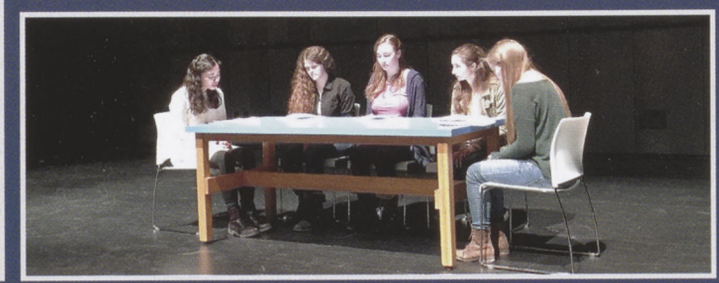
Kaity Stewart
Assistant Director of Student Activities

Lisa Nassimos
Staff Assistant

The staff of the Student Activities Office work incredibly hard for Hamilton students. They support an absolutely staggering number of student organizations, plan concerts, run committees, assist Student Assembly, and so much more. This yearbook could not have been created without them, and if they weren't there on the second floor of Sadove your student organizations – and campus life as we know it – would not exist. They support students in volunteering, media, extracurriculars, and usually it seems like they do pretty much everything else, too.
From the staff of The Hamiltonian - thank you!

UNTITLED @ LARGE





Untitled@Large is Hamilton's only student-run theatre organization. Untitled exists to facilitate student theatre productions and provide opportunities to participate in theatre at various levels of commitment. They help students promote their own theatrical visions and provide entertainment for the campus. Recent events included The Last Five Years, the It's Writ! Playwriting Festival, and the 24 Hour Theatre Festival.

STUDENT MEDIA

Hamilton College's Media Board consists of fifteen publications and WHCL-FM, the college's radio station. Each one contributes something unique to campus culture, from the satirical newspaper The Duel Observer to Red Weather, Hamilton's literary arts magazine. While Hamilton continued to enjoy old classics such as The Spectator, we also recently saw the beginning of new publications such as Suture and Circle Magazine.

Entire Creative Writing Class Can Tell Classmate Just Got Dumped

Crowpus Opens for Business in the Crow Aviary

This panini is for the birds!

By Mr. Letai '19
Ornithogastronomy Dept.

(THE CROW AVIARY) There's a new place to get food on campus that's got everyone tweeting: Crowpus. As part of a joint initiative between Hamilton College and Carl's Quality Crickets Co., led by Crow Boy '19, Crowpus opened this week inside the Crow Aviary on the Light Side of campus.

Crowpus will work similarly to Opus but "follows the example of the Hill's most valuable residents: the crows!" spokesperson Florence Benetti said. "Students can come to Crowpus five days a week to get a healthy helping of birdseed, various gourmet insects, and even chocolate-covered espresso worms! It's a great opportunity for everyone to broaden their culinary horizons," Benetti said. "Plus, it's completely carbon neutral, as long as you stop shitting in toilets and start using fertile soil instead."

While administrators have publicly assured campus that Crowpus is in addition to, not replacing, the preexisting Opii, employees of Opus 2 have voiced concerns.

"Someone's been changing up the inventory," Candace Stevens '20 said. "We were supposed to get a new delivery of coffee beans on Wednesday, but the bag was just full of birdseed. Didn't actually taste that bad, though."

"I think there was half a worm in my muffin," Opus 2 customer Reggie Howland '21 said. "I didn't want to make a big deal about it, but...ew. I don't need protein that badly." Opus 2 has also reported a sudden lack of cups and lids for their beverages, while there have been unconfirmed reports of a massive nest comprised of cup lids and bags of espresso beans inside the aviary.

Crow Boy is the only student employee of Crowpus, and it is largely run by staff crows themselves. Visitors to Crowpus report frequent difficulty ordering food, as most of the crows do not understand human speech.

"I tried to tell the crow at the cash register I wanted a chocolate chip cookie, but it just squawked and gave me a bag of seeds," Jamie Palmer '19 said. "It didn't even warm them up like I'd asked." Drinks from Crowpus are served in the communal birdbath in front of the aviary, into which crows occasionally drop tea bags and various pieces of trash. Crowpus accepts payment in cash, all-campus dollars, and most types of shiny trinket.

Some students have criticized the business model of Crowpus, claiming that they should serve a variety of food beyond invertebrates and seeds.

"I think it's false advertising," Tristan Hammond '19, president of the Hamilton Poultry Club, said. "When I heard they were serving 'crow food,' I thought I was finally going to get to try a new kind of dark meat."

World War I Reenactments Take Place in Trenches in Front of Health Center

Green space renamed Flanders Fields

By Ms. Cavallino '21
Landscaping Dept.

(IN THE MUD) Mock battles erupted in the area adjacent to the new Health Center, following one astute History major's observation that the space "looked a helluva lot like No Man's Land." Unfortunately what was intended to be a fun way to relieve stress by rolling in the mud quickly took a turn for the worst as the violence spread.

"I thought it would be a lot of fun, but then some Art History major threw mud at my face. My friends Sergei and Anatoly [Biology majors] threw mud back to defend me, but then Creative Writing majors ran to help the Art History people, and then Francois and Charles [Public Policy majors] joined us out of solidarity. A few hours later Johnny and Sheila [Economics majors] joined our side, and they took all the credit for winning, which was bullshit," Martha Graham '19, a Dance and Movement Studies major, said.

Not everyone affected by the battles was directly involved in the fighting. Several students were infected with trench foot after attempting to cross the mud-strewn battlefield to get to the Little Pub. Others were caught in the Boffer-weapon crossfire and were treated at the conveniently located Health Center, in which several rooms have been converted into operating theaters to deal with the casualties.

When Facilities Management was notified of the potential dangers posed by the ever-growing sludge and accompanying mustard gas, they excitedly unrolled massive spools of barbed wire across the Sadove patio, saying "We've been waiting for an opportunity to use this."

Memorials for the dead and wounded will happen on Sunday evening, along with readings of newly composed poetry on the horrors of war, hosted by Apple & Quill.

Paradise Lost Reading Marathon Now Running Marathon Following Summoning of Satan

Students take fast walks in the Garden

By Ms. Terhune '21
Lit Gone Wrong Dept.

(READING ROOM) Milton's Paradise Lost in Context class, LIT 228, has announced that they will no longer be hosting a Paradise Lost reading marathon and instead will be hosting a Paradise Lost running marathon on Sunday. The change comes after the class accidentally summoned Satan while practicing their reading of Paradise Lost, resulting in a rogue Prince of Darkness wandering across the Hamilton campus.

"I get nervous about public speaking, so Professor Thinbore said we could practice reading a few lines in class," Michael Ark '21 said. "When it was my turn, I said 'Awake, arise, or be forever fall'n,' and then a man who looked suspiciously like a mix between Sebastian Stan and the Michelin Man appeared and I thought 'Yep, that's Satan.'"

"I thought it'd be such a shame to cancel the Milton event after a term's worth of study, so we're just changing up what 'Marathon' refers to," Peggy Thinbore, Literature professor, explained. "Not even Harvard has managed to snag a guest speaker as well-known as Lucifer. And luring him to the library won't be too difficult—I'm sure the All-Night Reading Room will be full of enough naïve, desperate students just waiting for an opportunity to procrastinate via disobeying God's will."

Despite the overwhelming excitement from most of the Milton class, one member, Deborah Miller '20, expressed concern. "I'm just a Biology major in need of a writing intensive, so I'm not sure I have the authority to speak on this, but isn't letting Lucifer loose a bit dangerous? We accidentally summoned him on Tuesday, and I haven't seen him since he cut the line in Commons on Wednesday. And even if we could lead him to the library, I doubt we could get him to recreate the Angelic War while chasing us. Professor Thinbore is great, but her idea rests upon many assumptions, including the assumption that any of us can outrun Lucifer."

Despite Miller's protests and Satan's unknown whereabouts, the event will go on as planned. Thinbore stated that visitors will be treated to cheese, chocolate chip cookies, and lots of apples.

Athletics

Hamilton's athletics are an integral part of our school. Teams are well-known around campus, and the community surrounding them is strong and meaningful – many athletes have expressed to me just how much their teams are "like a family." It seems obvious how significant something like this can be during one's time at school.

Student athletes show tremendous passion and dedication to their sport, but also clearly display their enjoyment for what they do – and the enjoyment is shared by the fans, as the Hamilton community comes out to "back our blue." The next section highlights each of Hamilton's athletic teams, as well as the people who form the school's athletic community.

Names are presented in roster order. Team captains, when present, appear with bolded names.

CLUB & IM SPORTS

Hamilton's athletic scene is strengthened by the school's club sports teams: The Alpine Ski Team, Curling Team, Equestrian/Hunt & Dressage, Fencing Club, Hamilton College Figure Skating Club, HamTrek Sprint Triathlon Committee, Ice Hockey Club, Men's Club Soccer, Men's Rugby, Men's Water Polo Club, Multisport Club, Nordic Ski Team, Sailing Team, Ultimate Frisbee, Women's Club Basketball, Women's Club Soccer, and Women's Rugby. The school also hosts several intramural leagues, with sports such as volleyball, soccer, dodgeball, and flag football.

Letter of Thanks, from The Editor-in-Chief

I volunteered to create this book knowing I would probably be doing it by myself, but can a yearbook editor ever really work alone? The answer, of course, is no. I can't claim that it was just me who put this together any more than Neil Armstrong can claim he singlehandedly brought himself to the moon (though I should note that our achievements are not even remotely comparable). The truth is that so many people helped me finish this project. To all the photo submitters, club leaders, faculty, and general supporters - thank you for making this possible. Thank you to my parents for giving me the limbs and brain and such required to make a yearbook. Thank you to Kerri Bundy '98 for being a mentor, supporter, and inspiration — a teacher who introduced me to Hamilton, and was a big part of the reason I came to this school. Additional thanks to the Department of Geosciences, most importantly my advisor, Professor Cindy Domack, who introduced me to real paleontology and whose guidance and attitude helped make me the person (and scientist) I am today. Thanks, in a more general sense, to Hamilton College, and all the professors I've known. Heather Buchman, Colin Quinn, Maurice Isserman, David Bailey — I can't name everyone who I want to. Thanks to the Student Activities Office for all the support and assistance with... well, pretty much everything. Special thanks to Noelle Niznik, who I've had the absolute pleasure of meeting and then working with over the past four years, and who has done such an unbelievable amount for me and the organizations I've been a part of. Thank you, of course, to Bob Carper, the Jostens yearbook rep and my advisor, who put up with so much of my wonky planning (I'm so sorry). He's done so much work helping create Hamilton's yearbooks over many years, and more editors than myself owe him a debt of gratitude. Thanks to Mona Dunn and the Communications Office, who saved my life when I had no photos. Speaking of photos, thanks to the people on the opposite page. Thanks to Hannah Fink, who helped me a great deal more than she probably realizes. Thanks to all my friends, enemies, and distant acquaintances — it's been great.

And lastly — thanks to you, reader.

Wherever your life may take you, I wish you nothing but good fortune, kindness, and love. Follow your heart. Make the world a better place.
